Friday, February 1, 2019 | Hotel Colonnade, Coral Gables, Florida
Panel Presentation: 2:30 – 5:30 pm | Reception 5:30 – 7:00 pm

Program and Panelists

Attorneys from Mackrell International (MI) firms in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Dominican Republic, Mexico, Peru and Venezuela will be present to discuss legal, economic and financial aspects of doing business in their respective countries and how to capitalize upon increased cross-border opportunities between each other and the United States.

Panelists will address the economic outlook for 2019 and beyond, regional and industry sector opportunities and legal and business considerations involved in operating and investing in their respective countries including:

- Corporate, finance and tax considerations
- Labor and employment and immigration considerations
- Real estate, construction and environmental issues
- Risk management and more.

In addition, Miami-based MI firm, SMGQ Law will share how to leverage Miami’s assets as a banking and business capital center and the ever-increasing links with Latin America to enhance business opportunities with Latin America.

Why Latin America and Why Miami?

Latin America is an important economic and business partner for the U.S., Europe, Asia and numerous additional economies worldwide. In addition, major Latin American economies are in growth mode supported by improvements in commodity prices, rising business confidence, increased consumption and stronger exports.

Unofficially nicknamed “The Gateway to the Americas”, Miami is increasingly seen as a center for developing international trade ties and finance links with Latin America and many companies that do business within the hemisphere have regional or South American offices in Miami.
